LUNCH

Clean Code:
Principles, Patterns, and Practices for Better Code

JEREMY CLARK

- Speaker / Trainer / Consultant / Mentor
- Microsoft MVP
  - Awarded 2012 & 2013 for Visual C#
- Pluralsight Author
  - C# Interfaces
  - Dependency Injection On-Ramp
  - Design Patterns On-Ramp
  - Practical Reflection

JEREMY CLARK

- Jeremy is available as a consultant / mentor to help your developers succeed.
- Jeremy is also available to speak at your company or developer event.

- Email: jeremy@jeremybytes.com
- Web: http://www.jeremybytes.com
- Twitter: @jeremybytes

THEO JUNGEBLUT

- Engineering manager & lead by day at AppDynamics in SF
- Coder & software Craftsman by night
- First-Time-Dad & house builder
- Architects decoupled solutions & crafts maintainable code to last
- Worked in healthcare & factory automation, building mission critical applications, framework & platforms
- Degree in Software Engineering and Network Communications
- Enjoys cycling, running and eating

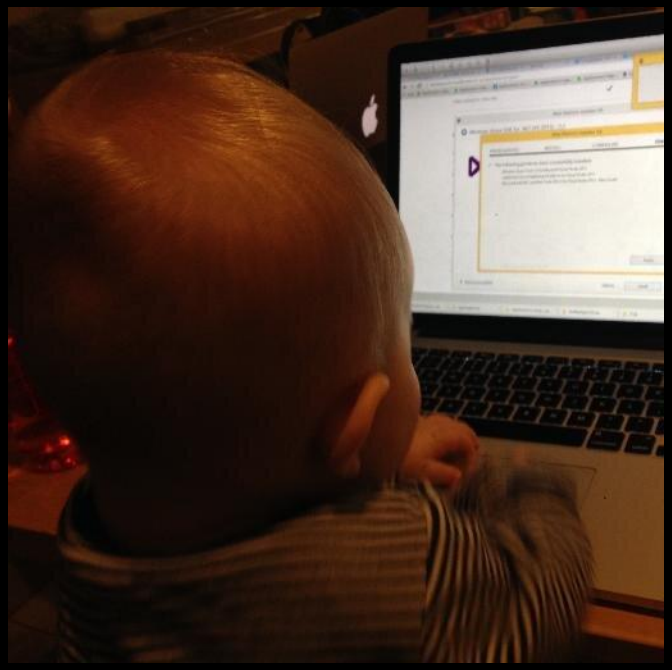
THEO JUNGEBLUT

Theo speaks at developer events about

- Clean Code
- Decoupled & Distributed Architecture
- Debugging & Troubleshooting Distributed Web & Cloud application
- Accidental Manager – A Survival Guide for 1st time engineering managers

Contact me

- Email: theo@designitright.net
- Web: http://www.designitright.net
- Twitter: @theojungeblut



LUNCH

Next Up: Software Craftsmanship